Ayers Depositors Lose Suit In Supreme Court Against State Officers

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court ruled today in favor of John C. Martin and Edward J. Barrett, former state treasurers, in a suit by creditors of the defunct Ayers National Bank of Jacksonville to recover more than $1,000,000 they claimed was lost to them by liquidating collateral on state deposits.

In another decision the court again upheld the legality of awards made by the legislature to widows of circuit court judges and other elective officials who died before taking office. The state attorney general attacked the awards.

A third major decision held that Illinois counties must pay regularly all claims of persons on blind pension rolls. The decision upheld the Christian County Circuit Court which allowed the pension claims of 90 persons amounting to $40,768.

The supreme court handed down 43 opinions in its first February term. Defendants in the Ayers Bank suit besides Martin, now Congressman-at-large, and Barrett, present state auditor, were Receiver Roy K. Adair of the bank and surety companies who wrote bonds of the former treasurers.

The suit was brought by American Legion Post 279 of Jacksonville and others in behalf of all creditors of the bank which closed in 1932.

Creditors complained that the state had on deposit $1,803,000 and that the bank had illegally pledged securities to protect this account. When the former treasurers liquidated the securities to protect the state's deposit, other creditors suffered, according to the suit. More than 6,000 creditors had claims exceeding $5,000,000 when the bank closed.

The high court, upholding the 1919 state depository act, sustained a prior ruling of the Sangamon County Circuit Court that the state officials were not liable personally.

Local law firms representing the depositors in the case decided yesterday by the Supreme Court included Foreman and Cleary and Walter Beilatt. Several local business firms having large accounts in the bank when it failed were among the plaintiffs in the case.

Had the decision been in favor of the depositors, large sums of money would have been distributed here and the dividend on lost deposits would have been greatly increased.

PRISON AWAITS ONCE POWERFUL BANK PRESIDENT

acetic rheumatism, which had afflicted him for weeks.

It was a striking scene, the finale to a whirlwind year of climaxes that began early in the morning of last March 1 in the upper part of the pretentious Crabb home in Delavan.

That night his pretty daughter-in-law, Betty Collison Crabb, was found shot to death in a bedroom. The Crabbs said the girl had killed herself. Only a few weeks before she had been accepted into the Crabb stratum of smalltown society by becoming the wife of James W. Crabb, young bank clerk and heir apparent to the fortune his grandfather seeded in Tazewell county years ago.

An investigation by state agencies and Tazewell county authorities resulted in the indictment of James for manslaughter and perjury.

Arguments Friday. A jury disagreed on the manslaughter charge, but he was convicted of perjury, and his appeal awaits oral arguments in the Illinois Supreme Court Friday.

Doyle told the judge that investigation by federal bank examiners had shown more than $40,000 had been misapplied by Crabb in fictitious chattel mortgages and that the banker had forged three notes also, one for $7,500 and two others totaling $10,000. The illegal practices started more than four years ago, Doyle added, and involved more than $75,000.

He was kind of a little emperer, and the king really do no wrong, because he ran a one-man bank," Doyle said.

Quincy Y. Tanksters To Meet Blueducks Here This Evening

Only Home Meet for I. C. Swimmers Open Only To College Students

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. swimming team invades the local school for the first time tonight for a meet with the Illinois College Blueducks. The first event is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Ticket sale has been limited to members of the college student body.

The Quincy tanksters were defeated by Illinois last year in a contest held in the Quincy pool. Whether or not the locals are as strong this season as they have been the past four years is still much in doubt, despite the Blueduck victory over Bradley last Saturday.

The personnel of the Quincy outfit is not known, but the Quincy swimmers will probably be headed by Charles Blines, who won the backstroke, the fancy diving, and placed second to Corriam in the I. C. Quincy league last year. If Blines swims the backstroke tonight, his race with Hal Jacobs, new Blueduck backstroke, undefeated so far this season, should be one of the highlights of the meet.

Coach Alf Lamb of the college team will have co-captains Frank Kaitex and Dick Kovecek for the free style and breast stroke events respectively. Larry Corliam and Bill Swenson for the free style, Dick Shivers for the free style and the breast stroke, Jacobs in the backstroke, and Tony Ursic and Bill Clark in the fancy diving. Kovecek, talented clown diver, has consented to perform as an added attraction.

Pittsfield led 4-3 at the first quarter and 13-12 at the half. By the time the game was two-thirds gone, Bluffs was out in front 19-17 and continued to keep an upper hand.

Bluffs reserves won their contest 17 to 8. Colvin of Quincy was the referee.

He announced that he and Miss Frances McClelland of Uhrichsville, O., would be married just before the Reds went south for the grapefruit season, and club officials quickly counted up and discovered that she would be the 13th wife in the Tampa camp.

"There's only one thing to do," said Gabriel Paul, the club's traveling secretary as the young right-handed pitcher signed his name and broke the news. "We'll either persuade one wife to stay home or make somebody else get married."

If that fails a Cincinnati sports writer's wife will be drafted to make the membership total 14.

EXCITING GAME. Canton, Ill., Feb. 15.—(AP)—In the exciting closing moments of a basketball game between Canton and Decatur high schools, Robert Izzard, eight, left 12 feet from his seat in the bleachers last night and broke his left forearm.

The same arm was fractured several weeks ago when the boy fell at play.

CRIMSONS PLAY AT HAVANA TONIGHT IN BASKETBALL BATTLE

J. H. S. Will End Season In Games Next Week; Gives Team Lineups

The Jacksonville high Crimson team goes to Havana tonight for a contest with the Havana high five. The Crimson team will wind up their scheduled season's play next week with two foreign invasions. The first will be at Jerseyville next Tuesday and the last game will be at Pittsfield on Friday.

The game tonight is expected to be another tough tussle. It will be the first game of the year with Havana. However, the Crimson team would probably feel ill at ease in anything but a hard scrap, having experienced nothing but that variety this season.

Frank Walker, J. H. S. mentor, expects to use the following combination to start the game: Basil Sorrells, Jr. and Floyd Little at forward; John Triam at center; and Captain Charley Johnson and Bill Caltons, guards.

Clyde Vasconcellos, who returned to the Crimson lineup in the game Tuesday with Peltahna, has his sprained arm in shape and will probably see action.

The J. H. S. win from the Flyers was their second triumph over them this season, both being Central Conference contests to make the victories all the more attractive to Crimson fans. However, because of two previous league losses this year, Jacksonville high will probably have to be content with a lower rung in conference final ratings.

For the reserve game tonight Coach Richard Welby will use the same tactics which produced a scant 24 to 23 win in the Peltahna preliminary. Two separate combinations will be used in the alternate quarters of the game.

The starting five will be composed of Darrell Fry and Horace Stinebaugh, forwards; Earl Underbrink, center; and Maynard Johnson and Bill Hudson, guards. Jim Coullas, Art Moxon, Ernest Chumley, Bob Weaver, and Joe Wilkerson will make up the other team.

Lineups: 1st 2nd 3rd 4th 5th. Player: Brockhouse, 142 151 148 441; Davis, 191 169 132 492; Dodson, 153 179 132 464; Thompson, 184 142 232 558; Casler, 138 138 138 414; Handicap, 8 8 8 24.

SERIAL STORY WOMEN WANT BEAUTY!

BY LOUISE HOLMES

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, Jeff meets Susie. Today, he meets her home. He is a handsome, but he realizes she has personality, "has something."

CHAPTER X

JEFF lived in a walk-up flat just far enough off Sheridan to be out of the high rent district. As he showed Susie to the third floor he was looking forward to his mother's reaction. His mother was a great girl, it had been her idea to bring Susie for dinner. And it hadn't been idle curiosity, either. Edna had a notion that Susie would need a friend. Edna was like that. Accustomed to wealth and a life of luxury, she had accepted comparative poverty without a whimper. Edna was what Jeff privately called a real lady.

The door was on the latch and Jeff pushed it open. "Hi, Edna," he shouted. Susie, panting from the climb, went uncertainly into the living room. It was a square room, uninteresting in architecture, homelike and charming in arrangement. Fine old pieces of furniture, lovely pictures and small things, conveniently placed tables, lamps, books, magazines, all seemed to have been made up of a dining room lay beyond. A voice came from a far door, obviously the kitchen.

"Coming, Jeff." With that the door swung open and Edna Bowman, a very young person considering her big son, slender and graceful, came toward them. Her expression of pleased hospitality did not change when she viewed Susie. And Susie, who had shrunk into herself, expanded again.

"This is Susie Lambert, Edna," Jeff said. "My mother, Susie, I call her Edna because she's so young and pretty."

Edna took Susie's hand. "I'm so glad to know you, my dear," she said, not patronizingly but simply and sweet. "Lay off your hat, won't you? Perhaps you'd like to wash a bit after your trip."

Susie said, "Thank you," and started clumsily for the bathroom. As suddenly as that her self-consciousness vanished and she turned at the door. "It's lovely of you to ask me for dinner," she said with her wide smile. "I appreciate it—really I do."

To Enroll Morgan County Boys For Citizenship Camps

Glen C. Hickie is Appointed Enrollment Chairman For C. M. T. C. This Year

Glen C. Hickie, Jacksonville High School faculty member, has been appointed chairman for Citizens Military Training Camp enrollment in this county. The period of enrollment for the camps opens March 1, and young men interested may secure application blanks and information from Mr. Hickie.

Seven Morgan county boys attended CMTC camps last summer, and a number of other applications were made too late for acceptance. Mr. Hickie stated yesterday that the quotas are based on population, and that the policy of "first come, first served" will remain in effect.

These popular summer encampments for young men of the Sixth Corps Area (Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin) will be held from July 11 to August 9, 1939 inclusive. There will be Infantry training at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri; Camp Croft, Michigan; and Fort Brady, Michigan; Infantry and Cavalry training at Fort Sheridan, Illinois; Field Artillery training at Camp McCaw, Wisconsin.

These camps are free of cost to the trainees and free of obligation for future military service. The C. M. T. C. camps are open to young men between 17 and 24 years of age who are of good moral character and sound physique.

Outdoor life under ideal camp conditions, with athletics, rifle or pistol shooting, citizenship studies and other advantages, are offered to all who enroll for the camps. Transportation going and returning, wholesome food, uniforms, athletic equipment, laundry service, and medical attention are provided by the government.

Outgrowth of the original Plattsburg camps of 1913-1914 and 1918, initiated by General Leonard Wood, the Citizens Military Training Camps aim to develop the manhood of the nation by bringing together young men of high and different types on a common basis of equality and under the most favorable conditions of outdoor life.

It teaches young men the privileges, duties and responsibilities of American citizenship; it stimulates the interest of the youth of the nation and the individual taking such training; it inculcates self-discipline and obedience, and develops these young men mentally, morally and physically.
